Jenny and Palmer,

This is still a work in progress. Heather has been through and reorganized, as is her particular talent. Dan, Becky and Dave are working through the fish part, adding detail and references (though Dan has been sidetracked with trying to get the larger work assignment in place). When the fish part is complete I will send it to the rest of the team so they can use the fish part as an example of how to add to their own sections. If Dan can get back to this it we ought to be able to send it out this week. I hope we will be ready to send something to the agencies late next week.

If you have any comments for the mean time, please pass them on.
